SPECIAL GUEST

Dr Mamokgethi Phakeng is a renowned academic-turned-businesswoman, boasting a wealth of experience spanning over two decades as an executive across various institutions of higher learning in South Africa. Most recently, she held the position of Vice-Chancellor at the University of Cape Town, the top university on the African continent, before opting for early retirement in March last year.

Dr Phakeng holds a doctoral degree (PhD) in Mathematics Education from the University of the Witwatersrand and has been granted two honorary doctorates: a Doctor of Science (Hon. DSc) from the University of Bristol in the United Kingdom in 2019 and a Doctor of Education (Hon. DEd) from the University of Ottawa in Canada in 2022. Her contributions to research and community engagement have garnered numerous accolades, including the Order of the Baobab (Silver) bestowed upon her by the President of South Africa in April 2016.

In addition, CEO magazine recognised her as the most influential female academic in Africa, and Forbes included her in their inaugural list of the 50 Most Powerful Women in Africa. In September 2022, she became the inaugural recipient of the Africa Education Medal, an award presented by T4 Education and HP Global to recognise the work of changemakers transforming education in Africa. In September last year, she was presented the Regional Lifetime Achievement Award by Women in Tech for her contribution in opening doors for women and girls in STEM, and in November, she was recognised by the same organisation as the Global winner of the same award. In February this year, she was presented the Transformational Leadership Award at the Pan African Leadership Summit held in Egypt.

Kgethi, as she is commonly known, has been a member of the FirstRand Foundation, an honorary member of the Academy of Science of South Africa, honorary member of the Association for Mathematics Education of South Africa, and a Fellow of both the African Academy of Sciences, and The World Academy of Sciences. She has served on numerous boards, including the Geneva Science and Diplomacy Anticipator, the Oprah Winfrey Leadership Academy for Girls, the South African Student Solidarity Foundation for Education (SASSFE), and the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR).

She made history by becoming the first female President of Convocation at Wits University, and the first woman to serve as National President of the Association for Mathematics Education of South Africa. She was the founding Chairperson of the Board of the South African Mathematics Foundation, and also served as secretary and member of the executive committee of the International Group for the Psychology of Mathematics Education. She currently sits on the Vice President's Advisory Council at Woxsen University in India and the Presidential Council of the University of the People in the US.

Deputy Mother, as she is affectionately referred, is also a philanthropist with a strong passion for young people and education. In 2004, she founded the Adopt-A-learner Foundation, dedicated to providing financial and educational support to students from underprivileged areas. Notably, when assuming her role as Vice-Chancellor, she declined an inauguration ceremony held in her honor and instead directed the allocated funds toward alleviating the outstanding debts of over 100 students who had completed their studies but were unable to graduate due to financial constraints. Since then, she donated 20% of her monthly salary and 100% of proceeds from her public speaking engagements to scholarship funds administered by UCT. She established this Fund in her personal capacity to support financially disadvantaged students, particularly women, registered for postgraduate studies at UCT.

Following her early retirement, she was appointed by President Cyril Ramaphosa to serve on the Presidential Advisory Council on National Orders. Following her departure from academia, Kgethi has become an accomplished businesswoman, with interests in media, agriculture (farming and retail), and business and management consulting. As a renowned speaker, she has given over 120 keynotes since her retirement last year. Outside her professional life, she is a mother, sister and daughter with an extremely adventurous spirit. In July last year, she summited Mount Kilimanjaro in Tanzania, the highest mountain in Africa and the highest single free-standing mountain above sea level in the entire world.

Similo Nxumalo

I recently had the privilege of studying the Supervisory Skills Course at IDM. My lecturer, Mr. Sibandze—affectionately known as Goje—was instrumental in my learning journey and I am deeply grateful for the knowledge he imparted. The course has been incredibly beneficial, especially as I recently began a new role as a supervisor. I am confident that the skills and insights I gained from IDM will enable me to excel in this position.

Thank you IDM, for your invaluable contribution to my growth and success!

CELEBRATING 50 YEARS OF DIVERSE EXCELLENCE!

INSTITUTE OF DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT (IDM): A LEGACY OF LEADERSHIP AND INNOVATION

A Visionary Beginning

In the dawn of the 1970s, a visionary idea took root: to establish a regional institution dedicated to addressing the pressing need for skilled management and leadership in Botswana, Lesotho, and Eswatini (BLE). This aspiration birthed the Institute of Development Management (IDM) in August 1974.

Pioneering Development

From its inception, IDM embarked on a remarkable journey, pioneering management development in the region. The Institute's early years were marked by a focus on in-service training programs for government officials, equipping them with the tools to drive positive change. As the needs of the region evolved, IDM expanded its offerings to include a diverse range of programmes, from short training courses to higher education postgraduate degrees.

Milestones of Impact

Over the past five decades, IDM has achieved numerous milestones that have shaped the development landscape of the BLE region:

- Launch of pre-service/ higher education programmes in 2010
- ISO certification: Quality Management Systems
- Registration and accreditation of Higher Education programmes: Botswana Training Authority (BOTA), Botswana Qualifications Authority (BQA), Lesotho Council for Higher Education Council (CHE), Eswatini Higher Education Council (ESHEC)

- Conversion and extension of IDM mandate from Management Development Institute to Higher Education Institution
- Local, Regional and Global partnerships:
  - Industry: Eswatini Revenue Services (ERS); Institute of People Management (IPM)
  - Regional Training Networks (RATN, AHLMN);
  - Universities (Bolton, Stellenbosch; Namibia Business School);
  - Professional Bodies: Association for Accounting Technicians (AAT); Chartered Institute of Purchasing and Supply (CIPS); NCC Education
- Scholarship funding for students

Governance and Leadership

IDM's success is underpinned by strong governance and visionary leadership. A dedicated Board of Directors, comprising distinguished individuals from diverse backgrounds, oversees the Institute's strategic direction. The Board is supported by a talented team of academic staff and administrative professionals who are committed to delivering excellence.

A Vision for the Future

As IDM celebrates 50 years of existence, the Institute remains steadfast in its commitment to driving positive change. Its vision is to be the leading provider of quality education and management development services that produces innovative professionals. Key focus areas include:

- Higher Education and Lifelong Learning: Providing opportunities for continuous learning and professional development.
- Digital Transformation: Embracing technology to enhance learning experiences and deliver innovative solutions.
- Social Impact: Contributing to social justice and equity through research and community engagement.

A Golden Jubilee Celebration

The 50th anniversary is a momentous occasion to celebrate IDM's rich history, acknowledge the contributions of the founders, staff, students, and partners; and look forward to a future filled with promise. Join us in commemorating this golden jubilee and honoring the legacy of diverse excellence.
