Overview

In today's world, there is a tremendous opportunity for enterprises to become digital businesses. Cyber security awareness in today's enterprise is not just an IT issue—it's a business issue.

This course empowers students, professionals and the wider community to deal with cybersecurity attacks and risks focused on identity management and it is an introduction to cybersecurity awareness. It provides a practical overview of challenging issues like identity credentials management and security, e-mail threats and web impersonation, or web hacking. In addition to this, you will have a practical appreciation of innovation applied to these concepts through an interview with a renowned expert in fraud and cybercrime. The teaching staff consists of Tsepiso Bernard Mohale, hacker and cybersecurity expert.
