

Home » News » Sports » IDM Lesotho Inter-games

IDM Lesotho Inter-games

Share 0

Author :

Publishing Date : 26 March, 2018

Institute of Development Management (IDM) will this year host its Inter-games in Maseru, Lesotho, where students from the Botswana and Swaziland campuses will compete against each other. The games are set to kick off on March 25.

The Inter-games are held on annual basis and students from IDM Botswana, Lesotho and Swaziland come together and compete in different sporting activities. The purpose of the sports activities is to expose students to travelling, giving them exposure to different places so they can interact culturally. It also for the purpose of excursions, where students get to relax and have fun and relax.

In an interview with IDM Sports Coordinator Galefele Bigman, he explained that the students who will be going to Maseru will be those under Botswana Tertiary Students Sport Association (BOTESSA). "We have students who participate in BOTESSA, we will be taking them to participate at the third annual Intergames, which were supposed to be held in Lesotho last year, but due to the unrest in Lesotho, they were postponed to this year," he said.

The sporting games include football, netball, basketball and volleyball. The students will also get a chance to participate in the Mr and Miss Institute of Development Management pageant. Bigman further advised students to enroll with IDM so they can enjoy the experience of traveling to Lesotho and Swaziland. "That is the one thing that sets us apart as an institution apart from the quality education that we offer," he said.

Latest Business Most Read

- Magosi kicks out Kgosi's right hand man from DIS
- NDB lobbies MPs for P400 million recapitalisation
- BPOPF pushes arbitration in P400 million trailblazer
- Masi 'clean up' not done yet!
- Pilane jams UDC
- 'Jobs President' tag must come alive
- Investec plans to tap unexplored markets
- IMF projects slight economic growth for Sub Saharan Africa
- BITC, UB partner to push Botswana's export led economy dream
- Debswana Pension Fund expansion quest bares fruits
- Russia plane entered Israel control zone from Syria
- The Latest: UN climate conference begins in Paris
- U.S. Issues Worldwide Travel Alert in Wake of Terror Threats
- Jordan policeman kills American and South African trainers
- Obama administration defends its Syrian refugee screening

CARTOON

POLLS

Do you think the closure of BCL will compel SPEDU to double their efforts in creating job opportunities in the Selibe Phikwe?

YES

NO